Dear Manager,

Food Not Bombs gratefully accepts your kind donation of food and for the people displaced by Katrina. We are sending buses, trucks and vanloads of food and supplies from every corner of North America to the Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. Our volunteers will set up kitchens throughout the south working with displaced people to provide nutritious meals, clothing and personal items. We are feeding thousands of people. Our Houston chapter is not only feeding people they have set up an FM radio station in the Astrodome and they are handing out radios to 10,000 people.

Food Not Bombs is an all-volunteer network of thousands of people in hundreds of chapters in the Americas, Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Europe, Australia and New Zealand. We started 25 years ago in Boston. Our food is always vegetarian and free to anyone without restrictions. Food Not Bombs includes the hungry in our program, cooking, collecting food and serving which provides them with a sense of accomplishment. We have no overhead, rent or salaries so every donation goes directly to helping people. Many affected by Katrina are familiar with Food Not Bombs because we have been sharing free food in communities through the area for many years. Because we are independent we can take food and supplies to areas where no other agency can reach.

We need 25 and 50-pound bags of rice, beans, black-eyed peas, lentils and any other large amounts of dry goods, pasta or non perishable food. We can also use propane stoves, water jugs, kitchen equipment, toothpaste, soap, shampoo and other personal items.

To show our gratitude we are happy to post your companies name and link on the Food Not Bombs website. Thank you very much! Your contribution is really appreciated.

Sincerely,

Keith McHenry
