

HUMAN NEEDS, NOT CORPORATE GREED

END THE CRIMINALIZATION OF POVERTY

Free meal, cultural events and over night vigil outside City Hall to end the criminalization of poverty!

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 2011

We believe that as humans we are entitled to the basic right to housing, food, and healthcare. The criminalization of poverty through police harassment and city ordinances is counter productive towards the effort to help the displaced and poor that are struggling each day to get back on their feet.

To further promote equality within our society we will continue to share food in our communities building solidarity with the homeless and other organizations seeking a better future.

City governments are making laws against the homeless and poor at a time when the economy is failing. Many cities are restricting the ability of the public to provide free food to the hungry in gross violation of our international and constitutional rights. Please join us the third Friday of each month to defend your right to end the criminalization of poverty.
